Remembering Sinead Condren

Sinéad, life hasn't been the same since the time you went away and although it seems that each day I miss you more and more I sometimes feel you are very close, especially when I am with those who loved you most. You were always so special, so very, very special and I feel so lucky to have shared so many happy times with you. You were such a happy person and such a joy to have about ... the eyes lit up, the smile, the gentle caring way, the kindness, the warmth of your being, the things you did to show how much you cared. I know you are but a thought away and thoughts of you are forever there. My only comfort in your going is knowing I will be with you one day. Ga-Ga
